Become an everyday explorer with our weekend breakaways, we will take you to places where time stands still and your spirit is inspired to soar to greater heights!

At Protea we believe that in the world's wilderness areas lie the preservation of humankind. We want to make a difference in the lives of our guests, by enabling them to find new paths, and leaving a legacy of conservation for our children. Our passion and drive for the great African outdoors is to share South Africa's wildlife reserves, our Heritage and our Countries unspoilt wilderness areas in a manner that leaves little imprint on the environment whilst delivering a unique experience for you to enjoy.

Our weekend fees are per person sharing, it's a self-drive weekend with some of the destinations offering full catering and other ones self-catering chalets or self-catering camping facilities. If style and comfort suits you, we can offer you just the right weekend to rejuvenate you. These weekends are aimed at true nature lovers and those that enjoy the unspoilt wilderness. These weekends are not designed as an obstacle course or an endurance test for man and machine. All our weekends are family-orientated and the aim is to enjoy the wonders of these pristine wilderness areas and to experience the original safari atmosphere of an unhurried life-changing journey.

Take a well-deserved break from the rat race with our unforgettable Weekend Breakaways!

Discover the rich diversity of our country, explore the undiscovered beauty that the areas holds that we intend to visit. Come and discover a treasure chest of breathtaking views, unspoilt wildlife, picturesque towns and the welcoming smiles of the locals.

Sani Pass, Kwa-Zulu Natal Province

Why use Protea for your Weekend Adventure?

- There are inherent risks and dangers involved when travelling alone and inexperienced travellers will be met with unpleasant surprises.
- We travel in convoy at all times for safety with your headlights switched on as it is easy to get lost or left behind when out on the road less travelled.
- We keep to convoy protocol.
- The guide will set a safe travelling pace with well-planned stops en route.
- We have visited the various destinations before and we know what to expect.

- All vehicles will be equipped with a long distance two-way radio.
- We know most of the travel conditions to these destinations, where to travel and where not to travel and how long it will take to travel safely between places.
- We take the greatest care in selecting our destination with neat and clean chalets/ Lodges or Hotels.
- We do not venture of demarcated roads and tracks - we only travel along regularly used roads and tracks to minimize our impact on the environment.
- We will share whatever knowledge we have on the fauna and flora, the culture of the people and the destination with you. Those of you that can contribute more information feel free to do so!
- Our weekends are planned months in advance, saving you the time and effort to do it yourself and offering you the peace of mind that everything is in place.
- Our accommodation and entrance to the national parks are secured well in advance, thereby eliminating any nasty surprises.
- Our weekends are economical and well-priced as a self-drive adventure into South Africa.
- We host environmentally-friendly expeditions.
- Respect for our surroundings/nature is the key focus point on all of our weekend breakaway tours.
- We will supply you with a full itinerary and a pack list for each weekend.
- We are always available to assist you in the planning of your weekend with us.
- We do not contribute to noise pollution – blaring radios, unruly individuals are not welcome and will not be tolerated!
- We only accommodate 10 vehicles per weekend with a minimum of 5 vehicles to secure it.
- All of these weekend breakaways will be led by Jannie Rykaart
